

Before you read

Every price here is the whole price, including any setup the service needs. Most services are done in about two weeks, and the result is yours to keep. I never hold your passwords: where I need access, you add me as a user, or we do the step together on a screen-share.

Set Up Missing Online Profiles

Who it's for: A homeowner from Boston's North Shore searches for what you do, and your business isn't there. This is for you if you're missing from Google, Facebook or the sites your customers use.

What you get:

- Google plus up to four more online profiles you pick (Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, Yelp, Nextdoor, or a site for your kind of business, such as Houzz or Healthgrades), built on your own accounts, with me added as a manager
- On Google: your categories, services list, regular and holiday hours, map pin, and your business name exactly as you use it
- One description of your business, written from your own words, fitted to each online profile
- Up to 10 of your photos added
- Not included: monthly posts or review replies (those are Social Post Every Other Week and Reviews Answered, monthly services), ads

What I need from you: which online profiles you want, your photos, and a screen-share where we do each site's identity check together.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks.

Price: $1,100.

Make Online Profiles Consistent

Who it's for: Your hours or phone number say one thing on Google and another on Yelp. This makes every place a customer looks you up say the same thing.

What you get:

- Google plus up to four more online profiles you pick, matched line by line: name, address, phone, services, categories and hours
- On Google: categories, services list, regular and holiday hours, map pin, and your business name exactly as you use it, with no added keywords
- Your website's Contact page matched too
- One description in your own words, and up to 10 of your photos
- Not included: online profiles you don't have yet (that's Set Up Missing Online Profiles), wider website changes, ads

What I need from you: manager access to your online profiles, website access for the Contact page, and your photos.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks.

Price: $750. Reworking the Contact page you have is included. Building one from scratch adds about an hour, and I tell you before I start.

Your Brand Voice

Who it's for: Anyone who wants everything written for their business to sound like they wrote it. Anything I write for you starts from this file, so it comes first for Every Inquiry Lands In One Place, Before You're Hired: Follow-Up That Runs Itself, After the Job Ends: Follow-Up That Runs Itself and Reach Out To Past Customers.

What you get:

- A short set of questions, plus a look at a few things you've written
- A file that says how you sound, with examples, ready to paste into ChatGPT, Claude or any AI tool
- Yours to keep and reuse

What I need from you: your answers and a few samples of your writing.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks.

Price: $250.

Your Brand Kit

Who it's for: Anyone who makes things for your business, from a print shop to whoever updates your website, and gets the colors and fonts a little different each time.

What you get:

- A review of what you use now: your logo, colors, fonts and the way they're put together
- Recommended changes for stronger effect and consistency, and for accessibility: enough contrast between text and background, and fonts that stay legible at small sizes and on phones
- A design guide with the agreed colors, fonts and examples of how they look together, so anyone who makes something for you gets it right the first time
- Two rounds of changes
- Not included: designing a new logo

What I need from you: your logo files and a few things you've had made, such as a card, a flyer or your website.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks.

Price: $450. Changes beyond the two rounds are $125 an hour.

Look Like One Business

Who it's for: Your online profiles, cards and flyers each look like a different company. This makes them look like they belong together.

Needs first: Your Brand Kit.

What you get:

- Online profile headers and pictures
- A business card and a flyer template
- A banner image for your email signature: one image, built to sit under your signature. The signature itself is Business Email Signature
- Editable Canva designs shared to your own Canva account
- Two rounds of changes
- Not included: printing, shipping and print-shop costs (yours). Anything beyond the list above is quoted per piece

What I need from you: manager access to your online profiles so I can upload the headers and pictures, and a Canva account (the free one works).

How long: most services are done in about two weeks.

Price: $600. Changes beyond the two rounds are $125 an hour.

Business Email Signature

Who it's for: Every email you send should carry your logo, your number and your website.

What you get:

- An email signature for Gmail with your photo or logo, your business name, your name, your phone and your website
- Built from Your Brand Kit, or from your website's colors if you don't have one
- Set up in your Gmail together on a screen-share

What I need from you: your photo or logo and a screen-share. Nothing for me to log in to.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks.

Price: $125, free for monthly clients. The signature tool, CloudHQ, is your cost: $1.99 a month per user (CloudHQ's price as of October 2026).

Get Chosen

Show Off Your Reviews

Who it's for: Your best reviews sit on Google where nobody on your website sees them. This puts them where people decide.

Needs first: your online profiles.

What you get:

- Your Google and Facebook reviews are shown on your website and are updated automatically
- One placement: a Reviews page, or one reviews strip on your home page
- Facebook connected once, together on a screen-share
- Not included: removing or hiding reviews

What I need from you: website access.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks.

Price: $400. A second placement is a $125 add-on. The reviews tool, Senja, is your cost, about $29 a month.

A Website Form That Asks

Who it's for: Your form says "Name, email, message" and you call back knowing nothing. This makes every inquiry tell you what they need before you call.

What you get:

- One form, up to 12 fields, built with your website's own form tool
- It asks what they need, how they heard about you, and the best way to reach them

What I need from you: website access.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks.

Price: $300 to edit your existing form. A new form instead is +$75. Fixing where the form's email goes is +$125. If your site needs a paid form plugin, I name it before we start, and it is your cost.

Every Inquiry Lands In One Place

Who it's for: New inquiries land in five different places, and some wait days to hear back.

Needs first: Your Brand Voice.

What you get:

- Inquiries sent to one place you choose: a text to you, an email, a Google Sheet, or your CRM (the software where you track customers)
- An automatic reply in your voice, within five minutes with Zapier Professional or your form's own auto-reply, otherwise within the hour
- Missed calls logged as inquiries so you can call back
- Tested end to end before I hand it over, plus two weeks of aftercare
- Not included: follow-up emails after the first reply (that's Before You're Hired: Follow-Up That Runs Itself), a full CRM build

What I need from you: your own login for me on each tool (so you never share a password), and the tools it runs on (Zapier, a phone tool, your CRM plan) in your name. I tell you the monthly costs before you sign.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks, then two weeks of aftercare.

Price: $1,200. A second starting point, such as a second form, is +$200.

Before You're Hired: Follow-Up That Runs Itself

Who it's for: Estimates go out and you never hear back.

Needs first: Your Brand Voice, and a CRM or job software with your estimates in it that can send timed emails. We check yours on the call, before you sign. If it can't, the fix is an upgrade or a Zapier plan in your name, and I tell you the monthly cost up front.

What you get:

- A nurture sequence of about 3 emails in your voice, approved by you before it goes live
- Starts on its own from your CRM, and stops when they answer
- Tested end to end before I hand it over, plus two weeks of aftercare
- Not included: CRM reorganizing, reporting dashboards, monthly watching (that's Automations Monitored & Repaired, a monthly service)

What I need from you: admin access to your CRM as a named user, through the two weeks of aftercare.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks, then two weeks of aftercare.

Price: $750. A second starting point is +$200.

Get Remembered

After the Job Ends: Follow-Up That Runs Itself

Who it's for: Every finished job should ask for a review and remind the customer when it's time again, without you remembering to do it.

Needs first: Your Brand Voice, and the same CRM check as Before You're Hired: Follow-Up That Runs Itself, done on the call.

What you get:

- A review request and a maintenance reminder, in your voice, approved by you before they go live
- Starts on its own from your CRM when a job is marked done
- Tested end to end before I hand it over, plus two weeks of aftercare
- Not included: monthly watching (that's Automations Monitored & Repaired, a monthly service)

What I need from you: admin access to your CRM as a named user, through the two weeks of aftercare.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks, then two weeks of aftercare.

Price: $750 alone, or $450 with Before You're Hired: Follow-Up That Runs Itself. A second starting point is +$200.

Reach Out To Past Customers

Who it's for: Happy customers have gone quiet, and reaching out keeps getting pushed to next week. Past customers hear from you before they need someone else.

Needs first: Your Brand Voice.

What you get:

- Your list cleaned first: duplicates out, formatting fixed, dead addresses dropped
- One email in your voice, sent when you aren't asking for anything: a tip, a recent job, a seasonal reminder or a holiday greeting. Approved by you before it goes out, and sent from my email platform
- A report about a week later: who opened, clicked and replied, plus who bounced or unsubscribed
- Your cleaned list back to you through a shared Google Drive link, never as an attachment
- Not included: an email every month (that's Stay In Touch With Past Customers, a monthly service), splitting your list into groups

What I need from you: your customer list (up to three files). Nothing for you to buy or log in to.

How long: most services are done in about two weeks; the report follows about a week after the send.

Price: $350. Thirty days after the report, I delete your list from my email platform and my files. I keep only the addresses that bounced or unsubscribed, so nobody who asked to stop hears from you again.
